

Cornthwaite Group : Cookie Policy

This cookie the policy explains how Cornthwaite Agricultural Ltd (“company”, “we”, “us” and “our”) uses cookies and similar technologies to recognise you when you visit our website at <https://cornthwaitegroup.com> (“website”). It explains what these technologies are and why we use them as well as your rights to control our use of them.

In some cases, we may use cookies to collect personal information all that becomes personal information if we combine it with other information.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small data files that are placed on your computer or mobile device or browser when you visit a website. Cookies are widely used by website owners in order to make their websites work or to work more efficiently as well as to provide reporting information.

Cookies set by the website owner in this case Cornthwaite Agricultural Ltd, are called first party cookies. Cookies set by parties other than the website owner are called third party cookies. Third party cookies enable third party features or functionality to be provided on or through the website e.g. advertising interactive content and analytics. The parties that set these third-party cookies can recognise your computer both when it visits the website in question and also in the visit to certain other websites.

2. Why do we use cookies?

We use first- and third-party cookies for several reasons. Some cookies are required for technical reasons in order for our website to operate and refer to these as Essential or Strictly Necessary cookies. Other cookies also enable us to track and target the interests of our users to enhance the experience on our online properties. Third parties serve cookies through our website for advertising analytics and other purposes. This is described in more detail below.

3. How can I control cookies?

You have the right to decide whether to accept or reject cookies. You can exercise your cookie rights by setting your preference in the cookie consent manager. The cookie consent manager allows you to select which categories of cookies you accept or reject. Essential cookies cannot be rejected as they are strictly necessary to provide you with services. The cookie consent manager can be found in the notification banner and on our website. If you choose to reject cookies you may still use our website, though your access to some functionality and areas of our website may be restricted. You may also set or amend your web browser controls to accept or refuse cookies. The specific types are first- and third-party cookies served through our website and the purposes they performed are described in the table below. (Please note that the specific cookies served may vary depending on the specific online properties you visit).

4. Types of cookies

4.1. Strictly Necessary / Essential website cookies

These cookies are strictly necessary to provide you with services available through our website and to use some of its features such as access to secure areas. Strictly necessary cookies enable core functionality such as security, network management, and accessibility. These cookies are required for the operation of our website and are essential as the website will not work properly without them. You may disable these by changing your browser settings, but this may affect how the website functions. If these cookies are disabled you may not be able to access all, or parts, of the website. If you wish to change your cookie settings, please read the 'how do I change my cookies' cookie section further below.

5. How can I control cookies on my browser?

You can change your cookie preferences at any time by clicking on the gear icon at the bottom left of our website page. You have the following options: Accept All Cookies; Reject All Cookies or Use the sliders to turn specific cookies 'On' or 'Off'

After making your selection, click 'Save and close'. Please note, you may need to refresh the page for your settings to take effect. You may also reject all cookies (except strictly necessary cookies) in the cookie popup. However, please be aware that rejecting all cookies may limit your access to some parts of the website. Alternatively, most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set, visit Website Privacy Policy | Cornthwaite Group | Cornthwaite Group

For more information on cookies in the UK, please see the information provided by the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) at Cookies | ICO

The following links are information about how to manage cookies on the most popular web browsers:

Chrome	Internet Explorer	Safari
Edge	Opera	Firefox

To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites, visit <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>

6. Tracking technologies like web beacons

Cookies are not the only way to recognise or track visitors to our website. We may use other similar technologies from time to time, like web beacons, sometimes called tracking pixels or clear gifs. These are tiny Graphics files that contain a unique identifier that enable us to recognise when someone has visited our website or open an e-mail, including them. This allows us, for example, to monitor the traffic patterns of users from one page within a website to another, to deliver or communicate with cookies, to understand whether you have come to the website from an online advertisement displayed on a third-party website, to improve site performance. And to measure the success of e-mail marketing campaigns. In many instances, these technologies are reliant on cookies to function properly, and so declining cookies will impair their functioning.

7. Flash cookies or local shared objects

Websites may also use so-called Flash cookies, also known as local shared objects or LSO's, to, among other things, collect and store information about your use of our services, fraud prevention and foresight operations.

If you do not want flash cookies stored on your computer, you can adjust the settings of your Flash Player to block flash cookies storage. Using the tools contained in the Website Storage Settings panel. You could also control flash cookies by going to the Global Storage Settings Panel and following the instructions, which may include instructions that explain, for example, how to delete existing flash cookies. Please note that setting the Flash Player to restrict or limit acceptance of Flash cookies may reduce or impede the functionality of some Flash applications, including potentially Flash applications used in connection with our services or online content will stop.

8. Targeted advertising.

Third parties may serve cookies on your computer or mobile device to serve advertising through our website. These companies may use information about your visits to this and other websites in order to provide relevant advertisements about goods and services that you may be interested in. They may also employ technology that is used to measure the effectiveness of advertisements. They can accomplish this by using cookies or web beacons to collect information about your visits to this and other sites to provide relevant advertisements about goods and services of potential interest to you. The information collected through this process does not enable us or them to identify your name, contact details or other details that directly identify you unless you choose to provide these.

Below is a list of third parties whose services are used on our website, with their respective privacy and cookie policy for further details.

9. Third Party sites

9.1. eBay Store

We run an additional web presence on eBay (Cornthwaite Group | eBay Stores) that sells stock directly to the public sector. The cookies used on this site are third party cookies only. To find out more about those eBay cookies or to opt out please visit Cookies, web beacons, and similar technology \("Cookie Notice"\)

9.2. Mailchimp Newsletters

If you subscribe to our Mailchimp mailing list, the emails that you'll receive will include single pixel gifs/ web beacons. These are tiny graphic files that contain unique identifiers that enable us to recognise when our subscribers have opened an email or clicked on certain links. These technologies record each contact's email address, IP address, date and time associated with each open and click for a campaign. This information is used for reports to show how each email campaign performed and what actions subscribers took. To find out more about the Mailchimp cookies follow this link at Mailchimp's Cookie Statement | Mailchimp

10. Updating this cookie policy.

We may update the cookie policy from time to time to reflect, for example, changes to the cookies we use or for other operational, legal or regulatory Reasons. Please revisit this cookie Policy regularly to stay informed about our use of cookies and related technologies. The date at the top of the cookie policy indicates when it was last updated.
